AUSTRIA YIELDS TO ITALY.

ROME, Aug. 12.—Austria has granted Italy's demand for reparation for the destruction of the buildings of the Puglia Wireless Company at Antivari, Montenegro. These structures were wrecked when the Austrian fleet bombarded Antivari, despite the fact that an Italian flag was flying over them.

REPORT LIEGE FORTS INTACT.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—An official telegram received here today from the French Minister of Foreign Affairs says:

"Rumors of the loss of the Liege forts are entirely false. Only a small group of German soldiers entered Liege. All the Belgian forts along the whole line from Belfort to Liege are intact. Small and unimportant engagements have occurred between the French and Germans."

FRENCH HOLD FRONTIER.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The French foreign minister announces that France is maintaining a strong guard along the frontier, saying:

"French cavalry is at all points maintaining superiority. French troops still hold the crest of the passes of the Vosges mountains and they also dominate the heights of Alsace. They are maintaining a line between Thann and Altkirch, slightly to the rear of Muelhausen."

SERVIANS CLAIM BIG VICTORY

ATHENS, Aug. 12.—The Serbian legation announced today that the troops invading Bosnia had won an overwhelming victory over the Austrians opposing their advance to Sarajevo, Bosnia, and inflicted heavy losses on the foe. It added that it expected momentarily news of the capture of Sarajevo.

REPORT FIRING OFF PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 12.—Residents of Portland and other towns along the Maine coast reported today that they had heard six shots at sea about 6:30 a. m. today. A wireless operator here said that he heard the French cruiser Aubouther communicating with a British vessel last night and that a German ship tried to "jam" through messages.

COSSACKS ANNIHILATE AUSTRIANS.

ROME, Aug. 12.—The Trieste correspondent of the Corriere d'Italia telegraphed today that two entire brigades of Austrian cavalry were destroyed after invading Russia, near Rietgeral. According to his dispatch the Austrian invaders were met by an overwhelming force of Cossacks supported by artillery immediately after they crossed the border and routed by a heavy fire.

Half Million of Kaiser's Troops Marching on Namur

LONDON, Aug. 12.—A Central News dispatch states that the German troops now advancing toward Namur number between 400,000 and 600,000.

That a great battle is now in progress on Belgian soil between the German army and the combined forces of the allies is indicated by today's dispatches received by the BOSTON AMERICAN from Brussels, Paris and London.

The Germans, numbering in some estimates as high as 200,000 men, have passed beyond Liege and are said to be engaged with the French and Belgians in the vicinity of Tirlemont, only 38 miles from Brussels.

PEOPLE ARE TRAMPLED BY HORSE IN MAD DASH

A four-crased horse, starting in Pemberton square, raced through Boston's most congested district today, desperately injured one woman, hurt two men, knocked over three horses and cut another before it was finally stopped in Jock square.

The horse was hitched to a room owned by the News Crockery Company of North Cambridge. It bridle had been removed and it was feeding from an oat bag in Pemberton square when something frightened it. The horse whirled the wagon around, took the turn down the hill from Pemberton square on two wheels and was off on a wild race. Pedestrians scattered. At Tremont street scores jumped to the safety of the stores. The horse swerved across Scollay square and the wagon swung against the subway structure and against overturning the load of crockery scattered along the way. Scollay square the horse side-swiped, cut a Standard Oil team and knocked over the horse attached to it.

At Cornhill and Court street, Mrs. Mary E. Thurlow of No. 74 Post street, Watertown, was caught by the horse's hoofs, knocked down, stepped on and the team ran over her legs. She was terribly cut and it was believed her legs broken. Dr. William L. R. A. and Dr. J. E. Lentine of South Boston applied a tourniquet and tended her till an ambulance came and took her to the Massachusetts General Hospital.

The horse, running down Cornhill, hit another team, barely missed a crowded car on Washington street, and fought its way through the thick traffic, knocking down two other horses.

Patrolman Thomas Fenney and others tried to stop it, but it was unbridled, and they could get no hold. The horse plunged into Dock square, hit a fruit stand, became caught in the maze of vehicles and plunged into another horse and stopped. The other horse was badly

The London Belgian legation has received no official word from Brussels for twenty-four hours, and this is construed as indicating that a great battle is now on, with sources of information closed to preserve secrecy.

The allies are also reported in conflict with a German invading army at Givet, across the river Meuse in French territory.

FRENCH CLAIM THEY HAVE REPULSED A STRONG GERMAN RAID ON THE MEUSE

INVADEING CAVALRY MEETS HEAVY LOSS

By FRANKLIN P. MERRICK.

Staff Correspondent of the American.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—The French War Office issued an official announcement today stating that the troops of the republic have been victorious in every engagement with the Germans. This statement relates to the fighting in Alsace and along the frontier, where the opposing forces are spread out in a battle line nearly 100 miles long.

It was further officially stated that all the German soldiers who penetrated France in the Departments of the Meuse and Meurthe et Moselle have been driven back across the border.

TO ENGAGE THE AUSTRIANS.

It is expected that the French army that invaded Alsace capturing Altkirch and Mulhouse will soon be engaged in battle with Austrian soldiers. Detailed information reached the War Office today that the Fourteenth Austrian Army Corps, consisting of 24,000 men under command of the Grand Duke of Tuscany, had entered Alsace from the direction of the Swiss frontier, and was rapidly in a junction with the German forces.

The French are in contact with German troops all along the frontier. Dispatches from the front say there is a heavy body of German soldiers maneuvering over a line about sixty-five miles in length between Chambley and Messimy with the possible intention of trying to outflank the French.

At Mangiennes, northeast of Verdun, a sharp engagement took place in which the French claim to have repulsed the Germans with heavy loss. Six guns, three heavy pieces of artillery and three rapid firing guns fell into the hands of the soldiers of the republic. A battery of German artillery was disabled.

GERMANS ARE REPULSED.
German troops attacked the French advance posts in the vicinity of Chateau Salins, eighteen miles northeast of Nancy, but suffered severe losses and had to retire, according to the War Office's official statement.

In the fighting at Mangiennes the French artillery wrought great havoc among the German cavalry, which was sent forward in an attempt to take the guns.

The fighting at Mangiennes was opened by the Germans, who moved forward against the French troops that were massed at that point.

The French column was strongly supported by artillery. During the early stages of the battle the Germans fought with such fierceness and stubbornness that the French lines were on the point of wavering when reserves were thrown forward to support the French front.

BIG GERMAN ARMY IS NEARING BRUSSELS

men, are reported investing Namur, a Belgian city second in importance only to Liege on the route through the Meuse valley to Paris.

Keeping Battle Secret

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Up to a late hour this afternoon the Belgian legation had received no official telegrams from Brussels relative to the course of the Liege campaign for twenty-four hours. An officer of the Belgian staff, who has just arrived from Brussels, gave it as his opinion that a battle of great magnitude is now taking place around Liege and that the Belgian War Office will maintain the utmost secrecy to prevent a leak of information.

Aside from the fact that fresh Belgian troops are moving southwestward from Louvain to join the French forces in front of the German army, nothing is known of the detailed troop movements of the allies around Liege at the Belgian legation.

Terrific Bombardment

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 12.—Heavy artillery firing in the direction of Tongres, ten miles north of Liege, was heard in Maestricht throughout the morning, according to a dispatch to the Telegraf. So terrific was the bombardment that concussion was felt at Maestricht, seventeen miles away.

80,000 Germans at Namur

BRUSSELS, Aug. 12.—Two corps of German troops, numbering 80,000 men, are reported to have invested Namur, the strongly fortified Belgian city at the confluence of the Rivers Meuse and Sambre. General Von Pritzelwitz, head of the Sixth German Army Corps, is said to be in command of the investing force, which has heavy artillery.

The foregoing dispatch indicates that the German forces sent into the interior of Belgium were dispatched to protect the movement of the main army against Namur and toward the French frontier.

It is unlikely that the Germans will storm Namur, but probably will attempt to pass around it, as they did at Liege after investing it. Namur has already sustained numerous sieges. Its citadel is supposed to be on the site of Caesar's camp. The city is thirty-six miles southeast of Brussels and has a population of about 35,000.

Battle on French Soil

PARIS, Aug. 12.—French and Belgian armies are engaged in battle with the German forces that invaded Belgium, according to an official statement issued by the War Office today.

The French came into conflict with the Germans when they attacked the province of Lorraine, in the department of Argonne. The War Office stated that, according to its information, this was an important engagement and that the French troops were pursuing the foe.

The Belgian and German armies are fighting at Tirlemont, thirty-eight miles from Brussels. Belgium, according to the War Office, the "Belgian army has energetically repulsed the German attack."

First, where the allies are fighting the Germans, is on the Franco-Belgian border, in France, on the banks of the Meuse.

FRENCH CAVALRY IN ACTION.
BRUSSELS, Aug. 12.—The official Gazette today admitted that the German army was advancing in force into the interior of Belgium. It said:

"The situation is slowly becoming clearer. The German armies are being situated from Liege and are advancing into the heart of the country, but it is difficult to indicate in what direction."

"The main body of the hostile cavalry is advancing along the front of the allied armies. French cavalry

FORCED TO INVADE LUXEMBURG, GERMAN CHANCELLOR DECLARES

Special Cable to the American.

Berlin, Aug. 2 (Delayed). Here is the verbatim text of Imperial Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's speech in the Reichstag on the outbreak of the war. Only a synopsis was printed at the time:

"Gentlemen—We are now in a state of necessity and necessity knows no law. Our troops have occupied Luxembourg and perhaps already are on Belgian soil. Gentlemen, that is contrary to the dictates of international law."

"It is true that the French government has declared at Brussels that France is willing to respect the neutrality of Belgium as her opponents respect it. We know, however, that France stood ready for invasion."

"FRANCE COULD WAIT, BUT WE COULD NOT WAIT. A FRENCH MOVEMENT UPON OUR FLANK UPON THE LOWER RHINE, MIGHT HAVE BEEN DISASTROUS. SO WE WERE COMPELLED TO OVERRIDE THE JUST PROTEST OF LUXEMBURG, and the government's wrong, of which I speak openly, we will endeavor to make good as soon as our military goal has been reached."

"ANYBODY WHO IS THREATENED AS WE ARE THREATENED AND IS FIGHTING FOR HIS HIGHEST POSSESSIONS CAN HAVE ONLY ONE THOUGHT—HOW HE IS TO PICK HIS WAY THROUGH."

FRENCH CAVALRY HAS JOINED BELGIAN ARMY
BRUSSELS, Aug. 12.—The war office announced today that French cavalry had joined the Belgian field army and formed a statement reading in part as follows:

"News from the troops is excellent. The French cavalry is actively awaiting the moment when they will be able to pit themselves against the enemy."

'JAPAN ACTIVE ON HER OWN INITIATIVE'

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Prospects of Japan's participation in the war were a source of divided interest here today. Reports from the Far East say that Japan was ready to launch an attack on possessions of Germany aroused anxiety in conservative circles.

The Times devotes its leading editorial to this phase of the situation, and after stating that the advent of Japan is active in this matter upon her own initiative. She has always littered the creation of the still undivided German atmosphere (Kiao-Chow) so near to her own shores that it is a suitable opportunity she would seek to oust Germany from Kiao-Chow."

Reiterating the statement that Japan is active on her own initiative, the editorial concludes:

"We trust that our valued ally the Far East will limit her action to the Pacific, and that she will not lead to grave misunderstandings among our kinsmen and might injure, instead of help, our cause."

Great Battle in the North Sea Reported

LONDON, Aug. 12.—It is believed that a great naval battle is already in progress in the North Sea. Owing to the absolute lack of information, coupled with the announcement that the North Sea has been closed to shipping, it is thought highly probable that an engagement between the English and German fleets is being fought.

Various reports have come to London from accounts given along the southern part of the English Channel that fighting has been heard distinctly.

BRAVES IN FINAL BATTLE WITH REDS TODAY BEFORE
TAKING BIG WESTERN TRIP

RAID GIVES THE BRAVES A BIG TODAY

By NICK FLATLEY

Raid today caused the postponement of the final game of the series between the fast climbing Braves and the Cincinnati Reds at the South End grounds. The news was welcomed by the Braves, who were tired of a day's rest before entering the crucial series with New York.

The entire outfit with Stallings and the reserves picked up and took an early train for the big town. Today's game will be played in a double header on September 25.

The South End band left town filled with ambition. They mean to come back in first place and have all the confidence in the world. This invasion of the West means everything to the Braves and they realize it is their one big chance to get a piece of a big series game.

If they maintain anything like the clip that swept them through all sorts of opposition the last time they were out, they'll come home in first place as sure as fate.

Naturally their big effort must be made right off the bat. If the Braves can be tamed in the big three day series that opens tomorrow, their lead will be a very slight matter and easy to overcome.

RIDGELY MAY OPEN SERIES. In addition, a Boston victory would put more spirit into the ranks. From there, they could then use it as it is. Much more, in fact, than they could expect to get from a single game.

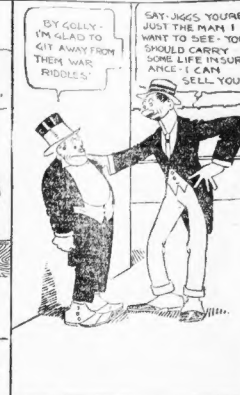

Manager Stallings naturally would be shaping his plans toward this series for some time. He has worked his three star pitchers regularly, but it will be observed that all three have been switched around so that each can, if necessary, start one of the three games.

Dick Rudolph, with a rest since Saturday, was sent over to New York early and will undoubtedly open the big inning, using something along the line of "I'm going to win this one." He has won four out of five from the Braves.

Consequently, for the three biggest games of the season Manager Stallings will have James, Rudolph and Tyler to work in the box, three pitchers who have been uniformly successful in their last sixteen consecutive appearances.

Which, unless you look at it from a statistical standpoint, is not at all a bad way for the manager of a team that is in the light of fairly healthy, to be fixed.

BIG CUP RACES ARE PUT OVER TILL NEXT YEAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The American Cup races are off for a year, owing to the grave conditions in Europe. The New York Yacht Club does not consider it proper for the races for the cup to be held this October and G. A. Cornish, secretary of the club, has cabled the following message to H. Garrett of the Royal Irish Yacht Club, through which the Thomas Lipton cup is challenged:

"We regret that in view of the grave conditions due to the war we do not think it proper to race in October. We are willing to postpone the races until 1915, subject to further negotiations."

Most Authoritative and Complete War Dispatches Are Found in the American

This newspaper has made complete arrangements to report the European war fairly, fully and authoritatively.

In order that the readers of the AMERICAN shall know what is happening in Europe at the earliest possible moment it has taken the complete service of the London Times, the most conservative newspaper in the world and the most famous of all European newspapers, and of the London Daily Telegraph, a journal of enterprise and trustworthiness.

The AMERICAN has also made alliances with the most important dailies in Paris, Berlin and Rome, whose war dispatches when received are cabled to this newspaper.

In addition to these newspaper alliances, which will be of tremendous value to the AMERICAN'S readers as the war progresses, it has engaged the services of Frederic Villiers, with the French army headquarters; Dr. Emile Joseph Dillon, now at Brussels; Lieutenant Ashmead Bartlett, on the far Eastern frontier; Luigi Barzini, with the French forces; C. F. Bertelli, at Paris, and Fritz Jacobson, at Berlin.

All these men are in the confidence of the officers with whom they are stationed and all are veteran correspondents, men of judgment and news-getting ability. Mr. Villiers, the most famous war correspondent living, has the confidence of every French commander and an exceptional opportunity to learn and report exactly what is going on.

As the war develops all necessary arrangements will be made to report every incident of interest or significance in the fullest possible manner.

A comparison of the AMERICAN'S news dispatches since the beginning of the war with those of the other Boston papers will show that this newspaper prints the news earlier, more completely and in a more interesting and authoritative manner than any of its rivals.

Who Are the Big Fighters of Sea and Land? WHERE ARE THEY?

Hidden Away in the Banks, Civilians or Unknown Officers, Probably. Little Real Experience Among the War's Leaders.

Copyright, 1914, by the Blue Company

Only FIGHTING can make fighters, only experience of actual destruction on the battlefield or at sea can make great generals and admirals.

Among the nations at war in Europe, there are leaders upon whom the nations pin their faith—yet these men have not managed real war.

The great name of Von Moltke is carried into the war by a young man who has seen no fighting.

The French commander Joffre was a lad during the Franco-Prussian war. Except in theory, he knows nothing of the handling of great troops.

At sea it is the same. The leaders of the various nations have had no actual experience in the game of death.

Kitchener, French and Hamilton, fighting on the English side, have all had battlefield experience. They have been under fire, have directed troops in real fighting. But it was fighting very different from that which goes on now.

The Russian army and navy have officers that gathered experience in the Japanese war.

But as a whole, the great fighting machines on earth, at sea and in the air, are controlled by men to whom fighting on a huge scale is an unknown problem.

It will be interesting to see where the genius of war will appear, whence it will come.

When our great war began, nobody knew anything about Sherman or Sheridan or Grant, who, a graduate of West Point, retired from the army because he didn't like it.

When Napoleon began his fighting France had never heard of him, the thin, sickly officer, or of any of the great marshals whose genius was developed by HIS GENIUS.

In the ranks, in the uniforms of insignificant officers, stand today the men who will come out in this war as men of genius in leadership.

Soon we shall all be talking familiarly of "great men," whose names the world had not heard two weeks ago, and whose names we have not heard YET.

We are not at war in this country, luckily; let us hope that we never shall be—barring the eternal war against injustice, extortion and monopoly.

Our young men have little chance of developing into great admirals or generals.

But they may learn from the progress of events in Europe that THE DOOR OF OPPORTUNITY IS NOT CLOSED. No man need be discouraged because his time has not come.

The unknown man who seizes the opportunity will be the great general or admiral of Europe in a few weeks or months.

The unknown man who seizes the opportunity HERE IN THIS COUNTRY will be the great general of industry, politics, or commerce in this country soon.

Among Those Present
